A Hymn-

BY W. C. BRYANT.

The following beautiful lines were written by Mr. Bryant for the semi-centennial celebration of the Church of the Mes slah, New York, in March last :

As shadows, cast by cloud and sun,

File o'er the summer grass, No, in thy sight, Almighty One ! Earth's generations pass. And white the years, an endless host,

Come pressing swiftly on, The brightest names that earth can boast Just glisten, and are gone. Yet doth the Star of Bethlehem shed A luster pure and aweet;

To the Mensish's feet. O Father : may that holy Star Grow every year more bright, And and its glorious beams afar To fill the world with light.

And still it leads, as once it led,

VARIETY.

Old Swelkins is so parsimonius that he won't turn over on his bed at night for fear he will wear his drawers out.

At Alton, Illinois, a preacher asked all Sunday school scholars to stand up who intended to visit the wicked, soul-destroying circus. All but a lame girl stood up.

Cerebro spinal-meningitis is a tough word for telegraphers to get hold of on the wires. A Sioux City lightning-jerker wrote it out " Carabo Spencer's Menagerie.'

An Alabamian gave as his reason for not attending church the fact that Sunday was, unfortunately, the day he had set apart for pounding his mule, and he couldn't leave home. When a woman buys a dress pattern, and brings it home and finds out that she doesn't like it, you can't drive away her melancholy by reading a chapter in the Bible or singing one of Dr. Watt's poems. Human nature is much the same all over the world. The man in Honolulu, like the man anywhere else, always feels like standing behind a chair, in company, when his legs are too long for his pantaloons. Helen M. Cooke, writing verses for a New York paper, says that kisses on her brow are the richest diadem her woman's soul aspires to wear. All right, Helen. Bring on your brow and take your diadem?

The newspapers are telling of a ninety-two years of age man who, during this harvest season, has cradled a notable quantity of rye. The rye was probably in the liquid state, and he rocked it about in his stomach. A boy who was drowned at Wilkesbarre the other day, was named Schwyndenberger. When a boy with a patronymic like that on him, once A TTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.

on nothing .- St. Joseph Herald. "Then you won't lend me that dime novel, eh?" inquired one boy of another in the Postoffice, -Saturday. "No, I won't." "All right then; next time our chimney burns out, you shan't come into the yard and whoop and boller!"

Mamma's birthday falls on the 14th. On the 13th she receives an important communication from her two little girls. First little girl-" We've got a secret for you, but we shan't tell you.' Second little girl-" Not till your birthday." First little girl-" And not then, neither, till we've hought it." Father Taylor once prayed for all the musi-cians and opera singers, and especially for the beautiful young woman (Jenny Lind) who had just landed on our shores to gladden American ears with her songs. As he closed, a long, lank fellow rose from the pulpit steps and asked whether the preacher supposed a person who died in an opera house could go to heaven. Father T. replied: "All good persons will go to heaven, but a fool will not, even though he dies on the steps of a pulpit."

Spilkins has hit upon a happy expedient for popularising science in a family circle. For instance, at the breakfast-table he remarks : " Mrs. Spilkins, you will be kind enough to replenish my cup with the embodiments of solar influences shed upon the surface of Chinese soil; also, if you please, two spoonfuls of crystallised sunshine from Jamaica;" or, "Herodotus, my son pass me the solid form of sunshine absorbed by the pastures of Orange County." With a dicworks to a charm.

A Lancaster, South Carolina, polygamist was sentenced in the following words: "James Martin, the court is credibly informed that you have six wives now living in Lancaster County. The law does not tolerate such a monopoly, but the court recognizing, as a mitigating circumstance in your case, the fact that you dwell in this vast solitude, you may have thereby been impressed with the belief that you live in patriarchal times, and you may thus have multiplied your marriages to relieve the loneliness of the situation. The court, therefore, imposes upon you the mildest sentence permitted by the statute, one month for each wife. A young woman on Fifth street thought to make a little fun for her neighbors last Tuesday evening, and accordingly donned a suit of men's clothing and called on them. She created much merriment, and was succeeding nicely until she arrived at a certain house where the green-eyed monster has a habitation in the breast of the husband. She knocked at the door, and the husband, who was expecting a call, probably from some young man, answered it. Upon the caller inquiring for Mrs. ---, the jealous Benedict took her square between the eyes with his fist and sprawled her on her back. This ended her fun. The remainder of the night and a portion of yesterday she spent in poulticing her optics with raw beefsteak. They are both somewhat dilapidated .- [St. Joseph (Mo,) Herald.]

A Belgian army officer has invented a machine for measuring the velocity of a cannon shot. He calls it an "electroballistic chronoscope." I invented a method of measuring the velocity of a connon ball once. I took an ordinary gold Wholesale Dealers in General Merchandise.

846] Queen St., next to the Office of J. I. Dowsett, Esq. [1] watch, tied it to the ball, observed the time, and fired at an iron-plated target. My theory was that the difference between the time when that watch was rammed in the gun and the time it struck the target would indicate the velocity. In STENCIL CUTTER IN PLANTATION. theory this seems plausible enough; but I found that it would not work in practice, for the watch was out of order after it had gone through the tar-get, and the man who stood behind the target went home with a quarter of a peck of brase cogwheels and hair-springs and levers and minutehands in his leg. Perhaps the Belgian machine will operate more satisfactorily. But it makes no difference to me now. Ever since I went out with the Pennsylvania militia I have been a slave to a habit off moving right off the field and going home as soon as connon balls begin to be fired. I take no further interest in the question of velocity, excepting in so far as it relates to the capabilities of legs when it is desirable to retreat .- [Max

THE RIDGE HOUSE! KEALAKEKUA BAY HAWAII.

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE climate. Certain localities in the group are capecially favored in this way.—The District of Kona, on the locward side of Hawali, has long been famed as a place of resort for invalids with bronchital, or lung diseases. With its pure and mild atmosphere, with its absolute freedom from storms or high winds, with its porous soil which, with all its rich vegetation, retains no dampness and yields no malaria, and with an unvarying temperature—that of the American or Southern European June—ALL THE YEAR ROUND, the climate of Kona is one of the healthiest and most luxurious on the globe.

The undersigned, at his house at Kaawaloa, a house unequaled in the district for size, cleanliness, commodiousness, and thoroughness of furnishing, is prepared to give boarders excellent rooms and all obtainable comforts in the way of diet,

THERE ARE FRESH WATER BATHS on the premises, and fine sea bathing within a short distance. The steamer Kliauea and the schooners Ulama and Prince, run regularly between Honolulu and the Kaawaloa landing.

The undersigned employs no agents nor runners. His house speaks for itself upon inspection.
